

Solving a Problem Hiding in Plain Sight for 35 Years

FUTUREPROOF is a B2B2C fintech SaaS business serving banks, insurance carriers, and non-bank lenders in US, UK, Australia, and Asia — having no product offering to enable their aging customers to meet their financial needs in retirement.

Cap Table:

The Company has been bootstrapped by its Founders ($3M) following a successful exit from a previous Insurtech start-up (a digital insurance carrier), with subsequent investment by several Family Offices (Australia, UK and Asia) and HNW in its early seed rounds ($2M).

What:

65% of retirees are asset-rich, cash-poor, under-funded for retirement, and will never purchase an annuity, guaranteed income product or investment product. This leaves only traditional equity release mortgage products (such as reverse mortgages and shared appreciation mortgages), which are inherently defective, predatory and expensive for borrowers and high risk, difficult to fund, lack liquidity, and near-impossible to securitize for lenders.

FUTUREPROOF is saving the retirement of 36M Americans homeowner retirees for whom no financial institution has any fit-for-purpose retirement income product or retirement and aged care funding product.

How:

FUTUREPROOF has brought to together the specialist banking, insurance, legal, regulatory and technical teams necessary to design and deliver a new index-linked mortgage — the Equity Preservation Mortgage®

This purpose-built, long-duration mortgage is referenced to the S&P500 Index. It pays loan interest on behalf of the borrower and does not deplete home equity nor share property appreciation - all home wealth is preserved for future needs or to leave to the family, addressing inter-generational unfairness and enabling the children to get into the housing market.

Big Picture:

The largest asset-class in the world is the capital tied up residential property, a new financial instrument that unlocks that capital is a game-changer for capital markets, turning residential property from a one-off liquidation event at sale, into a sustainable asset class that now creates substantial new capital flows through mortgage funding, lending, management of retirement assets and RBMS securitization.

The Equity Preservation Mortgage® is embedded into our SaaS Platform and only made available to financial institutions and regulated lenders, as Product Issuers. Other stakeholders such as investment banks, capital markets participants and reinsurers in our eco-system become Platform Partners with FUTUREPROOF.

Traction:

FUTUREPROOF is bringing the Equity Preservation Mortgage® to market in global collaboration with ACCENTURE and legal partner, JONES DAY.

Platform Partners — Negotiations with FUTUREPROOF include PIMCO, Macquarie Group.

This is a Team with deep domain knowledge, each having 30-40 years senior experience in insurance, banking, product development, technical, enterprise SaaS or regulation of financial services.

Business Model:

Long duration mortgages provide 30 years recurring SaaS revenue. ARR is taken as 50 bps loan margin from every mortgage written world-wide by our Product Issuers.

Other revenues derive from the unique status as eco-system gatekeeper to platform partners providing mortgage funding, securitization, asset management and mortgage insurance.

A B2B pipeline of 12 financial institutions in Australia, Asia, UK and USA as Product Issuers having reviewed the Equity Preservation Mortgage® — one-half via the Accenture distribution channel and one-half by Futureproof via our direct channel. Initial market launch in 2026 will trigger the closing process in 2027 to drive growth and global scaling.

Raise:

$5M raise (min. $1M on a SAFE) to complete SaaS tech build and fund sprint-to-market initially launching in Australia (to be followed by UK and USA in 2027) and move from pre-revenue to post-revenue with a $100M funded loan book by end-of-year.

Growth:

$1B annual revenue by Year 5 from just 20 Product Issuers world-wide.
